- Honest and ethical conduct
- Leadership and service to others and to the discipline as a whole
- Preservation of Ohio's history, vital records and family data

- Community support, collaboration and partnering
- Family history as a vocation, an avocation and as an academic concern

Strategic Initiatives

The following strategic initiatives are essential to The Ohio Genealogical Society achieving its mission. These broad goals demonstrate that we continually work toward becoming the ultimate national resource for Ohio genealogy.

We strive to:

- Obtain and maintain a comprehensive collection of materials for the genealogist studying his/her Ohio roots.
- Share that collection of materials in ways convenient to our users, using contemporary and appropriate technology.
- Provide support to OGS chapters, realizing that healthy chapters in turn provide support to OGS.
- Be efficient stewards of our organization's resources.
- Enhance the genealogical and historical knowledge base of our members and of the general public.
- Monitor local, state and national issues affecting genealogists and historians.
- Promote standards for research and for ethical conduct in the business and pursuit of genealogical knowledge.
