Note: The Richland County Supreme Court is not the same as the Ohio Supreme Court. From Records of the Supreme Court for the County of Richland (Ohio) 1814-1828 abstracted by Thomas Stephen Neel (2006), page i: "The judicial system in Ohio was initiated with the 1802 Ohio State Constitution but, of course, Richland County was not created until 1 Mar 1808. For court purposes, it was attached to Knox County until organized 1 Mar 1813. The first supreme court in Richland County was held in August 1814 with Winn Winship appointed clerk. The supreme court exercises appellate jurisdiction in matters brought before inferior courts, such as county common pleas. Therefore, a case might initially have been tried in a township justice of the peace, appealed to common pleas court in Mansfield, and then passed to the supreme court which met only once per year."
